where kids can be KIDS

At CAMP GENESIS, kids will have the opportunity to be kids again. Many of the children in families who have been affected by cancer are forced to grow up very quickly. During the week of CAMP GENESIS, they will be able to forget about some of those responsibilities and just be a kid again. As a parent, know that your child will be in a safe environment and building relationships with other campers who are going through similar situations.
