*Please keep in mind that students who are absent will access information from Canvas.

All work missed while a student is absent must be made up if credit is expected. Make-up assignments are the responsibility of the student and teacher. It shall be the responsibility of the student to promptly find out what work was missed and how and when it is to be made up. It is the expectation that assignments/tests will be made up on the day the student returns. The time allowed for make-up is to be arranged with each teacher, and is dependent on the individual circumstances surrounding the absence. Make-up work not completed within the time span arranged will not receive credit. Students will have access to online learning platforms used in our classrooms (K-12 will use Canvas).
